

PUBLIC ANXIETY

Speculation Still Rife Over Franco-German Situation.

Paris, June 26.—Speculation is rife regarding the probable purport of Germany's reply to the French note regarding the proposed international conference over Moroccan affairs, which reply has not yet been received. The statement that Germany would refrain from replying before further verbal explanations took place between Premier Rouvier and Prince Radolin, the German ambassador, is not regarded seriously in well-informed circles, where it is thought probable that an interview will not take place before Wednesday, when the reply from Berlin may reach Paris, but the officials are without definite information on this point. It is alleged that in this reply Germany requests a clearer statement of the French program for Moroccan affairs, suggesting that each subject be discussed separately in accordance with the terms of the Madrid convention, the two points principally referred to being coast trading and frontiers, and that should France accept Germany would abandon the idea of the conference. This, however, is regarded as a surmise.

Meanwhile public anxiety relative to eventualities, though somewhat abated, is still intense. The press continues to advise patience and confidence in the effort of the French government to arrive at a pacific settlement. It is pointed out that the negotiations have heretofore been conducted in a spirit of courtesy and that appearances show that everything is being done by both sides to reach an amicable arrangement.

Fortunately Our Laws Prevent This Horrid Suggestion's Practice.

Boston, June 26.—Amalgamation of the white and colored races through intermarriage as a solution of the race problem was advanced Sunday by Charles W. Chestnut, a well-known negro author, of Cleveland, O., in an address before the Boston Literary and Historical association. Mr. Chestnut, who is here to attend his son's graduation from Harvard, spoke on "Race Prejudice, Its Causes and Cure." After discussing the differences between the two races the speaker said: "The most difficult of the differences which hold us apart from our fellow citizens is our difference in color. Should this difference disappear entirely, prejudice and the race problem would cease to exist. I not only believe the mixture of races will in time be an accomplished fact, but that it will be a good thing for all concerned."

Cruiser Collides With Liner.

Ferrol, Spain, June 26.—The British cruiser Carnarvon ran down the North German Lloyd steamer Coblenz in a dense fog at 4 o'clock Sunday morning off Cape Prich (on the northwest coast of Spain ten miles from Ferrol). The Coblenz was badly damaged and sprang a leak. The passengers were transferred to the cruiser which towed the liner here. The injury to the cruiser was trifling, but the Coblenz will have to go into dry-dock.

When the life of Mrs. Ruff was hanging in the balance she used Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and was restored to health. Her experience made her the firm friend of the medicine that cured her.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has no equal in its cures of womanly disease. It establishes regularity, dries the drains that weaken women, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness.

"Five years ago when my life was hanging in the balance, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription was brought to my home," writes Mrs. Caroline Ruff, Director of German Orphan's Home, residing at 39 Rowena street, Detroit, Mich. "I took it, and it won me back to health. Ever since that time, I have been its firm friend. We frequently have mothers come to our 'Home' who are suffering with uterine troubles, inflammation, tumors and ulcerations. Our great remedy for a female trouble is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, and we have found nothing so far which would so quickly cure the disease, relieve inflammation and stop pains. It is a good friend to women."

Howard Gates Wept When Convicted Of Embezzlement.

VIOLATED HIS TRUST

Acting as Guardian of Two Estates It Is Shown That He Misappropriated Funds.

When the Verdict Was Brought in He Broke Down and Wept Bitterly.

Anderson, Ind., June 26.—After Howard Gates was found guilty according to the verdict of the jury of having embezzled the funds of the Umbenhour and Winter estates, in which he was acting as guardian, he broke down and wept bitterly, and it was several minutes before Sheriff Smelser could get him to go to jail. Gates' attorneys immediately filed a petition asking for a new trial. Gates is accused of having appropriated $1,200 belonging to the Umbenhour estate and $700 of the Winter estate.

MAIL CLERKS PROTEST

Declare Against Terrific Speed Maintained by New Trains.

Goshen, Ind., June 26.—United States mail clerks running through northern Indiana and with runs from Chicago to Cleveland on the Lake Shore, have taken a pronounced stand against the time-annihilating schedules adopted by the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern Railway company in its competition with the Pennsylvania company to retain the contract with the government for hauling the famous white mail, established in 1873.

Since the wreck of the Twentieth Century train at Mentor, O., the mail clerks are preparing to use their organization against what they term an unreasonable speed. Running through yards, around sharp curves and over switches at a rate faster than a mile a minute, they declare, is too dangerous for ordinary safety, and there is a general scramble to get on the slower runs.

This city is general headquarters for most of the men now in the United States railway postoffice service between Chicago and Cleveland. Almost without exception they are arrayed in opposition to the new schedules.

AFTER THIRTY-FIVE YEARS

A Pin Swallowed by a Baby Comes to Light.

New Albany, Ind., June 26.—A brass safety pin swallowed in his infancy by Eugene Brisby, city clerk, that for thirty-five years had been roaming about his anatomy, has just been extracted from his right knee by Dr. D. F. Davis. The pin was not discolored, and Mr. Brisby had felt no ill effects from its presence until the past few weeks.

He had been suffering from a pain in his knee which, owing to the fact that his left leg was amputated ten years ago, caused him great inconvenience, and for several days he has been confined at home. Dr. Davis was summoned and concluded at once that some foreign substance had become imbedded in the knee. An incision was made and the pin was extracted.

It was not until Mr. Brisby's mother explained that in infancy he had swallowed a safety pin that the presence of the pin was accounted for. The mother was greatly alarmed at the time, but no serious results followed and the incident was forgotten.

Saved by an Overdose.

Lafayette, Ind., June 26.—As a result of eating potato salad flavored with hellebore, mistaken for mustard, Mr. and Mrs. Elias Lovelace and a friend who is visiting them have been poisoned and they are in a serious condition. Two doctors were called, and after working over them for several hours they were restored to partial consciousness. The quantity of salad eaten probably saved all three from a terrible death, the physicians attributing their present existence to the fact that they took an overdose.

Parents Threaten Doctor.

Goshen, Ind., June 26.—Because he died in a physician's operating chair while under the influence of chloroform administered previous to amputating a finger, the relatives of Charles Cary, aged seventeen, threaten to sue the physician for malpractice, although the coroner's verdict exonerates the doctor from all blame. Dr. Dreese of Goshen administered the chloroform, declaring he tested the boy in the usual manner.

Bloomington, Ind., June 26.—Stephen Rush, a well-known farmer, while working in a wheat field a few days ago, came in contact with ivy vines, which poisoned his hands. It spread over his body and he died.

AGAIN TO THE FORE

President Roosevelt Is Believed to Have Made Another Hit.

DATE OF CONFERENCE

It Is Declared in St. Petersburg That Important Point Has About Been Arranged.

Circumstances Indicate That the President Has Probably Brought This About.

Washington, June 26.—It is reported unofficially that President Roosevelt has been informed by Mr. Meyer, the American ambassador at St. Petersburg, of the selection of the Russian peace plenipotentiaries.

St. Petersburg, June 26.—Negotiations for the peace conference have taken an important step forward, a proposition for the date of the meeting of the plenipotentiaries at Washington having been submitted to Russia and being now under consideration. The exact date proposed has not been ascertained, but there is reason to suppose that it is some time during the first week or ten days of August, which is about the earliest period at which the Japanese representatives could reach Washington, allowing reasonable time for the acceptance of the proposal and the interchange of the nominations of plenipotentiaries.

The emperor's answer is not expected for a day or two, as the diplomatic mills of Russia grind slowly and the foreign office, as one of the secretaries put it, "is not used to your hustling American methods"; but it is thought that the date will be satisfactory, as it will give ample time for M. Nelidoff, the Russian ambassador at Paris, or other Russian negotiators to reach Washington, and as there will be little preliminary work for them to do until the Japanese terms are submitted.

Whether the proposal regarding the date originated at Tokio or at Washington cannot be learned, but the fact that the negotiations were conducted through Ambassador Meyer may indicate that President Roosevelt has perhaps again stepped to the fore and suggested to the two powers, neither of whom would be willing to take the initiative, a suitable date.

Ambassador Meyer is still exchanging communications with Foreign Minister Lamsdorff by letter, the minister being confined to his apartments in the ministry, but in his latest note, written by his own hand, Count Lamsdorff expressed the hope that he would have sufficiently recovered to permit of personal exchange of views today. M. Neratoff, under minister of foreign affairs, and the spokesman of the foreign office, in an interview in the Gazette, declares an armistice pending the meeting of the plenipotentiaries is improbable, and he comments on the possibility of a battle taking place before a conference is held.

TERROR STRICKEN

People Leaving Lodz by the Thousands in Panic.

Lodz, Russian Poland, June 26.—The most serious phase of the fighting between the military and strikers is at an end, but there are still isolated attacks in the suburbs. At Baluty Sunday morning Cossacks attacked a Jewish family of five persons who were driving in a cab to the railway station, and shot and killed all, including the cabman.

At Pabjanice, near Lodz, workmen attacked two policemen and shot and killed one and wounded the other.

There is a general exodus from Lodz. Twelve thousand persons have already left and all trains are crowded. During the disturbances thirty-five government liquor stores were destroyed by the mobs, which appropriated all the cash and stamps found on the premises. The cash and stamps were added to the funds of the Socialist party. The workmen in all the factories struck today.

Some prominent citizens have telegraphed General Shustov, commanding the troops here, asking for protection against the brutality of the soldiers, especially the Cossacks, who in one instance killed and robbed the servant of a millionaire named Rosenblatt, who was carrying $5,000 to the bank. The general promised to punish the offenders, but said he required witnesses to testify against the Cossacks.

It is quite impossible to give the exact number of killed and wounded, as reports vary according to the quarter in which they are obtained. Certainly the killed number more than 100, possibly 200, and the wounded five times as many.

FROM THE FRONT

Tokio Receives Details of Recent Engagement.

Tokio, June 26.—The following official dispatch has been received from the Japanese army headquarters in Manchuria: "The enemy holding the northwest eminence of Manchenzou was attacked and dislodged on the afternoon of June 22, but a portion of the enemy holding the hills to the west offered stubborn resistance and the hills were finally taken by assault. Another force of the enemy holding the hills due north was attacked from the front and we simultaneously resorted to a turning movement from the northeast, intercepting his retreat and causing him heavy loss. The enemy in confusion hoisted the Red Cross flag, but this did not stop our firing, and he fled north in disorder. His strength in cavalry and infantry was some 3,000 men and several guns. Fifty corpses were left on the field. The enemy's loss was fully 200. Our loss was insignificant."

Appeal to Red Flag.

Warsaw, June 26.—The proclamation issued Saturday by the Social Democratic party of Poland and Lithuania calling out workmen as a protest against the Lodz massacre declares that in order to show the solidarity of their brethren and to protest against "the new and incessant crimes of the emperor's government," all Warsaw must stop work today. The proclamation orders that not a single factory or workshop shall be operated and that offices, shops, restaurants and coffee houses must close and all traffic must cease. It says that the red flag, the flag of the workmen, must float in the streets of Warsaw, and calls upon all workmen to help their brothers arrange a general strike.

An Incident of War.

Singapore, June 26.—The British India Steam Navigation company's steamer Ikhona was sunk by the Russian cruiser Terek June 5, 150 miles north of Hong Kong. The crew was landed here last night by the Dutch steamer Perak, which the Terek met June 19. The Ikhona was carrying mails and rice from Rangoon to Yokohama.

Washington, June 26.—Count Cassini, the Russian ambassador, has engaged passage for July 11 from New York. The ambassador will probably remain in Washington to await the arrival of his successor, Baron Rosen, who lands in New York July 6.

No Change at the Front.

St. Petersburg, July 26.—The emperor has received the following dispatch from General Linevich, dated June 23: "There is no change in the position of the armies."

brother of mine, not such as I, a rude, unlettered sailor, but a gentleman, and college bred. There are quarterings on my family scutcheon, sirs, back in merry England, had I the wit or care to trace it. He was a reckless youth, chafing under the restraints of that hard religion to which we had been born. The free life of a brother of the coast attracted him. He became, like me, a buccaneer. I strove to dissuade him, but without avail. He was the bravest, the handsomest, the most gallant of us all. He came into my old heart like a sob. We are not all brute, gentlemen. I have waded in blood and plunder like the rest, but in every heart there is some spot that beats for things better. I divided my love between him and my captain. This man—he pointed to his old master with his blunted finger, drawing himself up until he looked taller than he was, his one eye flashing with anger and hatred as with a stern, rude eloquence he rectified his wrongs, the grim indictment of a false friend—"this man betrayed us at Panama. With what he had robbed his comrades of he bought immunity, even knighthood, from the king of England. He was made vice governor of Jamaica, and his hand fell heavily upon those who had blindly followed him in the old days, men who had served him and trusted him, as I—men whose valor and courage had made him what he was.

"He took the lad I loved and because his proud spirit would not break to his heavy hand and he answered him like the bold, free sailor he was he hanged him like a dog, sirs! I—stooped for his life. I, who cared not for myself, offered to stand in his place upon the gallows platform, though I have no more taste for the rope than any of you, if only he might go free. He laughed at me! He mocked me! I urged my ancient service. He drove me from him with curses and threats like a whipped dog. I could have struck him down then but that I wanted to save him for a revenge that might measure my hate, slow and long and terrible—not mere sudden death; that would not suffice—something more.

"Treachery? My lord, his was the first. I played his own game and have overcome it with the same. D'ye blame me now? Take your treasure! I want none of it. I want only him and my revenge! Liberty's dear to all of us. I'll give mine up. You may take my life with the rest, but first give me this man. Let me deal with him. I will revenge you all, and when I have finished with him I will yield myself to you."

He was a hideous figure of old hate and rancor, of unslaked passion, of monstrous possibilities of cruel torture. Even Morgan himself, intrepid as he was, shrank from the awful menace of the moribund words.

TOO BIG A HURRY

People Going at Too Rapid a Pace, Says Dr. Gladden.

Columbus, O., June 26.—Rev. Dr. Washington Gladden preached last night at the First Congregational church upon the "speed craze." After referring to the craze for speed in cycling and automobiling, and its attendant risks and consequences, Dr. Gladden said: "This greed of velocity has worse still to answer for. The recent reckless speeding of railway trains is part of the craze. I cannot believe that any real interest of man is secured by these furious schedules. They are a fruit of the distemper of the time. They involve risks and perils to trainmen as well as to passengers which are, I believe, wholly unwarranted by any normal human demand. It cannot be safe to send such prodigious constructions through the air at seventy miles an hour. The awful casualty at Mentor the other day, emphasizes the peril. It is quite misleading to say that the speed of the train had nothing to do with the accident. It is true that the train would have been thrown from the track even if it had been going at 35 miles an hour instead of 70, but it is not at all probable that a half or a quarter of the destruction of life would have occurred at the lower rate of speed. The momentum of the train would have been just half as great, and the crash just half as terrible. Any breaking of a wheel or an axle, any misplacement of a switch, any destruction on the track, means vastly more of death and destruction to a train moving at that high rate.

"Speaking more generally, it is evident that this speed craze is not only lessening our pleasures and increasing our perils, but that it is also shortening the lives of many who are not victims of its slaughters. The rush and hurry are producing a great crop of fatal nervous disorders. That haste makes waste of life, in many cases, is far too manifest."

composedly, facing their uplifted points. "My lord," said Alvarado, "bid these gentlemen withdraw their weapons. This man is under my protection."

"Who is he?" "He I told you of, sir, who set me free, provided Donna Mercedes with a weapon, opened the gate for us—one Benjamin Hornigold."

"Thou traitor!" yelled that fierce, high voice on the outskirts of the crowd.

There was a sudden commotion. A bound man burst through the surprised cavaliers and threw himself, all fettered though he was, upon the sailor. He was without weapon or use of hand, yet he bit him savagely on the cheek.

The old buccaneer was an awful figure as he poured out a horrible torrent of curses and imprecations upon the traitor, grinding his teeth beneath his foam flecked lips, and even the iron

CHAPTER XXII.

THE blow that struck Alvarado down had stunned him rather than anything else, and he would not have been put out of the combat so easily had it not been that he was exhausted by the hardships of those two terrible days through which he had just passed. He faced the viceroys, his hand in that of Mercedes, with a flush of pleasure and pride upon his face.

It was the consciousness of having won permission to marry the woman whom he adored and who loved him with a passion that would fain overmatch his own, were that possible, that so quickly restored him to strength. With the realization of what he had gained there came to him such an access of vigor as amazed those who a few moments before had thought him dead or dying.

"But for these poor people who have so suffered, this, my lord," he exclaimed with eager gratitude and happiness, "hath been a happy day for me. Last night, sir, on the beach yonder, I found a mother. A good sister, she, of holy church, who, rather than carry the ladders which gave access to the town, killed herself with her own hand. She died not, praise God, before she had received absolution from a brave priest, although the holy father paid for his office with his life, for Morgan killed him. Tonight I find, by the blessing of God, the favor of your excellency and the kindness of the lady's heart, a wife."

"Long life to Donna de Lara and Captain Alvarado!" cried old Agramonte, lifting up his hand. "The handsomest, the noblest, the bravest pair in New Spain! May they be the happiest! Give me leave, sir," added the veteran captain, turning to the viceroys. "You have done well. Say I not true, gentlemen? And as for the young captain, as he is fit to stand with the best, it is meet that he should win the heart of the loveliest. His mother he has found. None may know his father!"

"Let me be heard," growled a deep voice in broken Spanish as a one-eyed old sailor thrust himself through the crowd.

"Hornigold!" screamed the bound buccaneer captain, who had been a silent spectator of events from the background. "I missed you. Have you?"

The boatswain, mindful of his safety—for in the hurry and confusion of the attack any Spaniard would have cut him down before he could explain—had followed hard upon the heels of Alvarado and De Tobar when they entered the fort and had concealed himself in one of the inner rooms until he saw a convenient opportunity for disclosing himself. He had been a witness to all that had happened in the hall, and he realized that the time had now come to strike the first of the blows he had prepared against his old captain.

As soon as he appeared from behind the hangings where he had remained in hiding it was evident to every one that he was a buccaneer. Swords were out in an instant.

"What's this?" cried the viceroys in great surprise. "Another pirate free and unbound? Seize him!"

Three or four of the men made a rush toward the old buccaneer, but with wonderful agility he avoided them and sprang to the side of Alvarado.

"Back, sirs!" he cried coolly and

He bit him savagely on the cheek hearted sailor, striving to stanch the blood, involuntarily shrank back appalled before him.

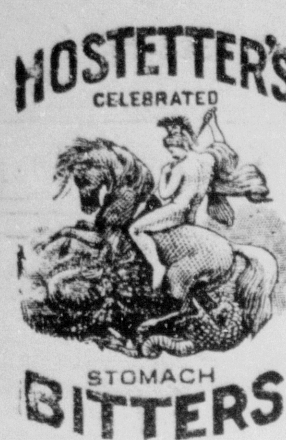

"Senior," he cried, appealing to Alvarado, "I was to have protection!"

"You shall have it," answered the young soldier, himself shrinking away from the traitor, although by his treason he had so greatly benefited. "My lord, had it not been for this man I'd still be a prisoner, the Lady Mercedes like those wretched women weeping in the streets. I promised him, in your name, protection, immunity from punishment and liberty to depart with as much of the treasure of the Porto Bello plate galleon, which was wrecked on the sands a few days ago, of which I told you, as he could carry."

"And you did not exceed your authority, Captain Alvarado. We condemn treason in whatsoever guise it doth appear, and we hate and loathe a traitor, but thy word is passed. It will be held inviolate as our own. You are free, knave. I will appoint soldiers to guard you, for should my men see you, not knowing this, they would cut you down, and when occasion serves you may take passage in the first ship that touches here and go where you will. Nay, we will be generous, although we like you not. We are much indebted to you. We have profited by what we do despise. We would reward you. Ask me of something that I may measure my obligation for a daughter's honor or saved if you can realize or feel what that may be."

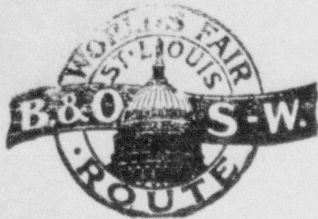

"My lord, hear me," said the boatswain quickly. "There be reasons and reasons for betrayals, and I have one. This man was my captain. I periled my life a dozen times to save his. I followed him blindly upon a hundred terrible ventures. I lived but for his service. My soul—when I had a soul—was at his command. I loved him. He could ask of me anything that I could have given him and he would not have been refused."

"Ours, there came to me a young

AS TO THE HOSPITAL.

In referring to the meeting of the hospital commission and the gathering of certain well known men interested in the location, the Indianapolis Star of Saturday said: "Among them were William E. Springer, representative from Bartholomew county, who with Senator Newhouse engineered through the legislature the bill providing for the new institution." From this it would seem that the Star is somewhat mixed up as to the facts. It is well known that there never was any opposition to the bill and that only one of the 100 representatives voted against it.

The idea of an additional hospital for the insane emanated with Governor Hanly. The original bill for the new hospital was prepared by S. A. Barnes, of this city, and was introduced in the senate by Senator Wood and in the house by Representative Honan. This bill was copied word for word by Mr. Springer except that he provided for the location at Columbus. The Governor preferred that the location should not be fixed in the bill and at his suggestion the bill was changed leaving the location to a commission. The bill passed with only one representative's vote against it and all the talk about any one "engineering" it through is beside the fact. Representative Springer and Senator Newhouse were good legislators and are clever fellows but all must admit that the bill as passed was the measure of Governor Hanly's administration and with the exception of the place and manner of location was almost word for word as written by Mr. Barnes, and that there never was at any time any real opposition to the bill.

The selection of a location is yet to be made. The Governor has said that there shall be a square deal and we have no doubt that the commission will do what it sincerely believes to be the best. We do not see how these men can overlook the superior advantages of Seymour nor do we believe they will.

TIP NOT STRAIGHT.

Indianapolis News Simply Made a Guess.

The Indianapolis News Saturday evening pretended to have a "straight tip" from the hospital commission. It said that after the commission met Friday one member gave the "tip" that the new institution would be located at Bedford. But the news goes right on to say that the commission would inspect a site at Charlestown Tuesday and that each one of the other place seeking the location would be asked by the commission to survey a site and submit other detailed information to the commission. This does not look like the matter was closed and that Bedford had been agreed upon.

The fact is there was no such tip. The news simply heard some gossip and made a guess. Why would the commission go to Charlestown if the matter was already settled? Seymour is the logical place for this institution and we believe now as we always have that merit will win.

MARRIED.

MAINS-MERCER.

Mr. Frank B. Mercer and Miss Maude Louise Mains were married at 12 o'clock Sunday morning, June 25, in their own home at 1632 Hall place, Indianapolis. Rev. Henninger, of Hall Place church, was the officiating minister and the ceremony was performed in the presence of only a few immediate relatives. Miss Lollie Mains, sister of the bride, and Mrs. Dr. L. M. Mains, Jr., accompanied them from this place to Indianapolis yesterday morning.

Miss Mains has been employed at the office of Dr. G. G. Graessle for some years past and is a highly esteemed young lady with a large number of friends in this city, all of whom are solicitous of her happy future. Mr. Mercer is very well known here by a large number of admiring friends. He is at present in the employ of the Indianapolis News Company. They have the congratulations of a large circle of acquaintances in the city.

Married At 2 A. M.

BROWNSTOWN, Ind., June 24.—Joseph Philipps, of Cochran, Ind., and Mrs. Elizabeth Shields, of this place, were married here at 2 o'clock Saturday morning. This is the bridegroom's third marriage, and the bride's fourth. He is fifty-eight years of age and she is fifty-nine. He is employed at the Baltimore and Ohio Southwestern pumping station at Cochran, and could get no one to fill his place. He arrived here at midnight and aroused the county clerk at 2 o'clock and then procured the services of a justice of the peace to perform the ceremony.

DIED.

WHITE.—Mrs. Uriah White died at her home south of this city at 1:10 this afternoon, aged 66 years. Mrs. White had been an invalid for several years. She leaves a husband and five children, Joseph, who resides on the farm; Ewing, of Indianapolis; Horace and Mrs. Ewing Shields, of Seymour; and Miss Emma, who is still at home. Funeral Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 from the residence.

The funeral of Joshua Clark was conducted at the residence of Mrs. M. C. Carpenter at 8 o'clock this morning by Rev. A. B. Conrad. A large number of friends were present. The remains, accompanied by Mrs. Carpenter, were taken on the 9:50 train for Fairbault, Minn., for burial.

Furious Fighting.

"For seven years," writes Geo. W. Hoffman, of Harper, Wash., "I had a bitter battle with chronic stomach and liver trouble, but at last I won, and cured my diseases by the use of Electric Bitters. I unhesitatingly recommend them to all, and don't intend in the future to be without them in the house. They are certainly a wonderful medicine to have cured such a bad case as mine." TOOK ARSENIC.

John Donhorst Makes An Attempt At Suicide.

Last Friday morning John Donhorst, the market-gardener, swallowed some arsenic with suicidal intent. What he had done was discovered by his family soon after and Dr. Casey was sent for. He responded quickly and after a while he had his patient on the road to recovery. While he is not entirely out of danger yet it is believed that he will come around all right in due time.

Despondency is said to have led Mr. Donhorst to make the attempt to take his own life. He is well known in the community and is an industrious and upright citizen. He has been engaged in market gardening many years.

Torture of a Preacher.

The story of the torture of Rev. O. D. Moore, pastor of the Baptist church, of Harpersville, N. Y., will interest you. He says: "I suffered agonies, because of a persistent cough, resulting from the grip. I had to sleep sitting up in bed. I tried many remedies, without relief, until I took Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, cough and colds, which entirely cured my cough, and saved me from consumption." A grand cure for diseased conditions of throat and lungs. At W. F. Peter Drug Co., price 50c and $1.00 guaranteed. Trial bottle free.

RAILROAD RUMBLINGS.

Andy Ross who watches crossing at Mitchell came home yesterday to visit his family. He returned to work today.

Engineer Bruce Murphy and wife have returned from Kokomo where they accompanied the remains of her father, O. C. Moulder for burial.

Henry Cook is substituting for Joe Stein at the railroad crossing this week while Mr. Stein and wife are visiting relatives at Cincinnati and Dayton Ohio.

William Hessler who has worked in the B. & O. S-W. yards here for a number of years has resigned and accepted a similar position with the Southern Indiana at Terre Haute and is well pleased with that place.

Fred Bender who worked in the B. & O. S-W. shop here as machinist for many years and moved his family from this city to Washington where he worked for the same company, has resigned and accepted a position with the C. H. & D. at Indianapolis and moved his family to that city last week.

The Children's Day exercises at the Baptist and German Methodist churches Sunday were largely attended. Interesting programs were given at each place. The collections were liberal.

FLY CATCHES.

Frank Farrell has offered the Detroit club $10,000 cash for Pitcher Mullin. Comiskey has six pitchers for his Chicago American club and says that it is not too many.

The pitchers on the Washington team have quit using the spit ball because it is a strain on the arm.

The Detroit club has sold Catcher Bob Wood to Buffalo, but he refuses to be relegated to a minor league.

Manager Collins says that Cleveland is the only western team that will be in the race for the flag at the finish. Mahesh Kittredge and Jim McGuire, who are afraid of Dr. O's, are thinking of raising beards so as to disguise themselves.

Jake Stahl, the manager of the Washingtons, is slated for the position of assistant football coach at the University of Illinois next fall.

Denny Sullivan, the outfielder who was given a try out by Stahl at the beginning of the season, is leading the batters in the American association.

TIMELY TOPICS.

The languid season is approaching when people will lean on things when they talk.—Atchison Globe.

The signs of the times point to a great season for racing by harness horses, the auto to the contrary notwithstanding.—Cleveland Leader.

The silly season is at hand. Don't rock the boat, don't get careless on the Fourth of July and don't write love letters unless you are sure you mean them.—Washington Star.

Some people refuse to believe that the man who rocks the boat is any more of a fool than the one who wants to run an automobile a mile a minute on the public highways.—Chicago Record-Herald.

A Fearful Fight.

It is a fearful fate to have to endure the terrible torture of piles. "I can truthfully say," writes Harry Colson, of Masonville, Ia., "that for blind bleeding, itching and protruding piles, Bucklen's Arnica Salve, is the best cure made." Also best for cuts, burns and injuries. 25c at W. F. Peter Drug Co.

POLITICAL GOSSIP

All Signs Point to Re-Election of Chairman Goodrich.

Indianapolis, June 25.—That James P. Goodrich of Winchester will be re-elected chairman of the Republican state committee is the continued prediction of "Jims" Watson, congressman from the Sixth district. He says that Goodrich will not be an avowed candidate, but if the committee wants him to take the place again he will take it. Goodrich, he declares, will never make a fight for it, but he thinks Goodrich will be agreed on by the party leaders when the time comes for the reorganization.

Doubt has lately arisen in the minds of some of the men connected with the present state administration as to whether or not Governor Hanly is going to be able to "keep the lid on" in the larger cities during the next four years as he has set out to do. He is a determined man, but it is pointed out that he is already having much trouble keeping the metropolitan police boards keyed up to the pitch where they will enforce the laws as rigidly as he demands. He has been in telegraphic communication with the Michigan City and Elwood police boards and has demanded of them again that there be no loosening of the strings. A member of the Marion board has resigned. No reason has been assigned, but it may be that the governor was demanding a pace too strenuous. It is intimated that he will call for a lot of resignations of members of the police boards unless there is a tightening of the lines.

It is evident that the Democratic leaders of the Twelfth district don't believe that the landslide of last November is a criterion as to what will be the result there during the next campaign, as there promises to be a large field of candidates for the Democratic nomination for congress in the district. A. A. Adams of Columbia City, district chairman, has announced that he would like to make the race. Otis L. Ballou of Lagrange and Judge Stephen A. Powers of Angola are also said to have aspirations in the same line. The district was Democratic for several years prior to the landslide last November, when Congressman Robinson was defeated by Newton W. Gilbert of Fort Wayne. The Democratic leaders in the district believe they have a chance to redeem it next year. Former Congressman Robinson may also make the race again.

The report that he intends to become a candidate for the district chairmanship here is denied by L. C. (Baron) Rothschild, who says there is no ground for it. From what can be learned of their plans neither of the factions have any definite plans regarding this district. William Bosson, who was a member of the Marion county delegation in the house during the recent session of the legislature, will be a candidate for membership to the Republican state committee from this district. He is trying to line up the leaders and workers now and has held out his first string to the latter by having printed and distributed among them with his compliments booklets containing the personnel of the local organization.

The wind-up of the race for the Republican nomination for mayor here this week promises to be very exciting. Bookwalter and Stalnaker will make half a dozen speeches daily besides giving attention to their organizations. According to the "dope" of a majority of the Republican leaders here the odds are set to six that Stalnaker will defeat Bookwalter about states the relative strength of the two candidates, but in a direct primary there is a chance for all calculations to be upset.

His Compliment.

First Artist—Well, old man, how is business? Second Artist—Oh, splendid! Got a commission this morning from a millionaire. Wants his wife and children painted very badly. First Artist—Well, old man, you're the very man to do that for him.

Evidence.

First Lawyer—Think the old man was of unsound mind? Second Lawyer—Oh, yes. It runs in the family. Look at the way the relatives are spending money to break the will.—New York Press.

Had to Wait Events.

Alice—Ethel says she really doesn't know whether he will propose or not. Jack—Just like a novel, isn't it? Alice—Yes. But in a novel you could turn to the last chapter and find out.

USE MANUFACTURED ICE

In your homes and places of business. Why? Because it is the only kind of ice that is absolutely clean. If it was not, physicians would not recommend it for use in the sick room in preference to natural ice.

Ebner's manufactured ice is all ice. It is not one-half slush and the other half frozen dirty water. It is solid, pure, sparkling, ice, with no foreign substances in it. As it does not cost any more than filthy natural ice does, is there any reason why you should not use it?

Give us your orders for the season now. We will guarantee that both our ice and delivery service will be perfectly satisfactory.

HOUSEHOLD WORRIES.

There Is Not The Slightest Need For Some Of Them Existing In Seymour.

The average mother finds sufficient annoyance and worry performing the ordinary duties in the rearing of a family, but the cares and anxiety are doubled when there is added to ordinary conditions that of weakened kidneys in a juvenile member of the family. How to cure it should be of untold value to Seymour mothers. Read this:

Mrs. M. Mortiz, of Fifth street, says: "I sent my daughter to C. W. Milhouse's drug store to get Doan's Kidney Pills for her little sister afflicted with weak kidneys. I gave them to her and I never had a more satisfactory result from medicine. It was such a release from embarrassment to the child and took a large amount of extra work off me. This had been going on for a long while and nothing I could do for her seemed to do any good. As for the price 50 cents per box to me ten dollars a box would have been cheap judging from their merits. The child is perfectly sound as regards the kidneys. It is four months since I gave them. I can conscientiously recommend Doan's Kidney Pills to mothers."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster—Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York sole agents for the United States.

Stacks of Wall Paper

In all conceivable designs are here. If you know how cheap artistic wall paper is at our store, you wouldn't let those rooms go another season with their old wall covering. Freshen them up, it'll cost you but little, and means lots of comfort.
